Famous Orange and Blue Athlete Is in France Driving Field Hospital Ambulance.

Welcome Sam Rice to the fold of hitters!

Last week Doc Ayers was in the select class, but Doc went to the bat unfortunately and his average went galley west. Sam klice, however, has been clouding with regularity, chiefly in the pinches and has literally clubbed his way up there with speaker, Jackson and Cobb.

Allan Thurman, famous football and baseball player at the University of Virginia, may be lost to the Orange and Blue this coming year. Young Thurman is at present driving a field ambulance somewhere in France, and recently cabled Albert Thurman, of this city, asking permission to remain at the front for another three months. Something over three months. Something over three months. Something over three months of the university, joined the field hospital corps in France with many college men from Harvard, Yale, and Princeton. Recent dispatches announced that Thurman had been granted a license to drive for another three months following a return cable from this city.

And now Sam is batting at a 366 clip, which shows just what a regular 380 hitter can accomplish. Sam hasn't had a full trial there as yet, but here's noping he sticks through to the end with that 300 gait.

This is taken to mean that Thurman this is taken to mean this is taken the mean this is intende staying at the front in France, and that he will not return to the University of Virginia. Last fall Thurman attracted the attention of the football world by his wonderful punting. When Virginia defeated Yale and held Harvard it was Thurman's exceptional punting that turned the trick. Eddic Mahan, Harvard's sensational kicker, was outdistanced by the Virginia man, whose bulletilke drives electrified the Northerners.

whose bulletlike drives electrified the Northerners.

Several All-America football selections included the famous Virginia guard, and he was heralded as the coming player in the East, as last year was his first in college football. In the spring Thurman demonstrated that he was one of the baseball finds of the college world. His work at first base on the Virginia nine attracted big league scouts.

On the Northern trip Thurman demonstrated slugging ability and it was his hitting in the Yale stadium that routed the Ell team. Thurman got four hits out of as many times at the bat against Yale.

out of as many times at the bat against Yale.

Shortly after the football season it was reported that Thurman would enter Yale University. This was stoutly denied at Virginia by Thurman. When the field hospital corps was organized among college men in this country last spring Thurman went. Virginia students financed two units and Thurman drove one of the ambulances. Robert Gooch, former Virginia quarterback, just from France, was instrumental in getting Thurman to go over, it is reported.

That Virginia will lose an exceptional athlete goes without saying. Not since Sam Honaker used to tear off sensational runs have Virginia athletes such as "Buck" Mayer and Allan Thurman gotten as much fame. Members of Thurman's family here understand that he will remain in France indefinitely.

The University of Pennsylvania is claiming the world just at present.
Despite announcements from the Coast
that Frank Sioman, the schoolboy quarter-mile sensation and record holder would enter California University, Penn comes right out with the announcement
in a weekly letter that Lawson Robertson is sure of landing the youngster.
Penn also lays claim to Raymond Wallace and Sylvester Maxam, two athletes who brought fame to St, Albans, and George Green here last year.
Brooke Brewer is also on Penn's list of athletic marvels who are entering this fall. Should Penn land these three athletes Washington will have contributed its share. Raymond Peck, John Whelchel, Stuart Smith, and Richard Sergeant, members of Washington Tenpilonship basket ball team, are already certified for Penn and have engaged rooms in the dormitories.

General Office and Union Station staged a closely consested game in the Terminal Railfold Y. M. C. A. League yesterday. After six innings of well played ball. General Office won out by 1 to 0. The game was one of the best-played in the league this year, being a pitchera' battle all the way through. Two bits were all that the Station team could gather off Forrest Thompson's delivery, while only three were made by the General Office club off Kearney.

Degnan, pinch hitting for Lawrenson in the sixth, came through with a bingle and scored a little later what proved to be the winning run.

Imediately after today's match Johnston, Griffith and Davis, in company with the leading players of the metropolitan district, will leave for Boston to compete in the invitation tournament of the Longwood Cricket Club.
